Welcome

Dear participants,

It is our pleasure to welcome you warmly to the Annual General Assembly (AGA) 2018 of the Global Donor Platform for Rural Development. The title of our event is programmatic – “Young and ready to move – empowering the new generation in the rural space”.

Young people will shape the future of the rural world. What will be the international development community’s role in this? How will it be able to effectively meet the socio-economic and environmental expectations of the young rural population in times of rapid urbanisation and migration? Many of the Platform members and partners are already engaged with rural youth empowerment in various ways. Current approaches, trends and remaining gaps in assistance will be presented at the AGA in the form of a compendium.

We invite you to discuss with young agricultural colleagues, representatives of rural youth organisations and young entrepreneurs from the developing world about ongoing support programmes, new strategies and mechanisms to improve the effectiveness of international and domestic public finance and to leverage private sector investments.

Message

We are very pleased to welcome the high-level representatives of our members and partners to join us on the second day of the AGA. It will undoubtedly enrich the event and enhance the profile of the Platform through the provision of a strategic and political outlook on the role of the international community in the future empowerment of the young people in rural areas worldwide.

We acknowledge with great appreciation the contributions of the Federal Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development of Germany (BMZ) and African Development Bank (AfDB) for co-hosting the AGA 2018 in the heart of Berlin.

We are looking very much forward to your active participation!

AGENDA DAY 2

AGA MEMBERS' SESSION

Reflecting and acting together for rural youth empowerment and SDG 2

The Members' Session during the Annual General Assembly of the Donor Platform is the occasion for Platform members to:

- ▶ Learn about the latest challenges and opportunities faced by donor agencies in funding food security and nutrition policies and programmes
- ▶ Exchange views on emerging ARD topics and approaches, such as the topics chosen every year for the Platform's Annual General Assembly
- ▶ Reflect on and strengthen the Donor Platform as a community of development officers from donor organisations who can help each other with operational, as well as strategic matters in their work
- ▶ Build partnerships and devise concrete actions to reach the goals of the Global Donor Platform

This year, a portion of this session will be dedicated to a presentation + discussion on the SDG 2 Roadmap – an emerging informal initiative by BMZ, USAID, DFID, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, EC and a few other donors active in agriculture, food security and nutrition to take stock of and catalyse actions to achieve SDG 2. The group is currently discussing actions in different areas: a) research and data, including the framework for an economic model to increase agricultural productivity and sustainability; b) mapping of donor initiatives which contribute to SDG2; c) private sector cooperation to implement SDG2, and d) joint advocacy, which includes cooperation with custodian agencies for SDG indicators 2.3 and 2.4.

Benjamin Kwasi Addom

Team Leader, ICTs for Agriculture,
Technical Centre for Agricultural and Rural Cooperation (CTA)

Dr. Benjamin K. Addom is the Team Leader, ICTs for Agriculture at CTA. He is an expert in digital solutions for agriculture (digitalisation in agriculture). He focuses on integration of mobile applications, remote sensing technologies and innovative business partnerships for scale and sustainability. He has over 20 years of experience with smallholder farming; extension and advisory service provision; agribusiness development; and grant management.

He holds Doctorate in Information Science and Technology from Syracuse University, USA; Masters in International Agriculture and Rural Development from Cornell University, USA; and Bachelors in General Agriculture from the University of Cape Coast, Ghana.

At CTA, he leads a team that designs and implements ICT4Ag projects reaching millions of smallholder farmers and other value chain actors. He coordinated the development and deployment of the CTA's Apps4Ag Database that has over 400 apps for agriculture. He is also currently managing a multi-million, multi-partnership, and multi-year e-extension project in Uganda that utilises remote sensing data to reach 350,000 maize, soya bean, beans and sesame farmers.

Anders Aeroe

Director, Division of Enterprises and Institutions, International Trade Centre (ITC)

Anders Aeroe has been Director of the Division of Enterprises and Institutions of the International Trade Centre (ITC), Geneva, Switzerland since March 2011. Mr. Aeroe, a Danish national, joined ITC in 2007 and has since then held several positions within ITC, including as Acting Deputy Executive Director and as Chief of the Market Analysis and Research Section.

During his professional career, Mr. Aeroe has focused on the interrelated topics of competitiveness and trade development at enterprise, organisational and policy level, trade intelligence, trade in services, sector and value chain development, and industrial transformation, learning and innovation.

Before joining ITC, he spent a number years in South Africa, as a regional adviser to the Danish Industrialization Fund for Developing Countries and prior to this position as Senior Manager Trade Promotion at the Western Cape Trade and Investment Promotion Agency (WESGRO). He was Chairman of the Board of the Western Cape call centre business association (CallingtheCape) and was appointed as a member of the South African Maritime Industry Task Team. He also served as a member of the Advisory Council to the Cape IT Initiative.

PANELISTS

Frank Bertelmann

Project Director, Sector Project Rural Employment with a Focus on Youth, Deutsche Gesellschaft für Internationale Zusammenarbeit (GIZ)

Frank Bertelmann, geographer by profession, graduated from the Free University, Berlin.

In the 15 years of his professional career, he largely worked at the interface of sustainable economic development and rural development.

Before joining GIZ in 2007, he worked at the Joint Planning Department of Berlin and Brandenburg as well as at the consultancy firm PROGNOS AG on regional planning and economic policy in the Berlin region.

With GIZ, he started in the Sustainable Agricultural Development Program (PROAGRO) in Bolivia and then worked for 6 years in Indonesia for the Regional Economic Development Program as an adviser and later as the project director.

In 2015, he joined the Sector Project "Agricultural Trade and Value Chains" at GIZ Headquarters in Bonn, focusing on the cooperation with the private sector. In early 2018, he took over the new Sector Project "Rural Employment with a focus on youth" under the Special Initiative "ONE World – No Hunger".

In the working group session, he will share recent developments in the conceptual work of GIZ on rural employment promotion, including insights into empirical evidence, project examples and approaches for employment measurement.

Ige Bolaji

CEO, Pastor Ige Farms Limited, Nigeria

Bolaji Ige became exposed to large scale farming in 2004 at Nefraday Nigeria limited, where he learned to manage a commercial-sized farm. In 2008, he started his own fish farm with 400 pieces of juvenile fish. He is currently the CEO of Pastor Ige Farms Limited (PIFL), a fish farm estate in the North Central zone of Nigeria. In 2013 Bolaji started processing cat fish to smoked fish as a means of improving production and in 2014 began freezing catfish for local consumption. He also developed catfish feed in response to scarcity of commercial feed in 2016. Bolaji is one of the 27 beneficiaries of the Nagropreneur program; an initiative of the Federal Government of Nigeria that launched the Youth Employment in Agriculture Program (YEAP) and Fund for Agriculture Finance in Nigeria (FAFIN) in 2014. As a fish farmer with over 10 years practical experience, Bolaji has well developed skills and ability in catfish production, processing and marketing. He has trained about 200 fish farmers. He makes the training and retraining of both established and prospective fish farmers a life mission. As a practical means of expressing his faith in God, Bolaji turned out a bi-vocational minister – teaching the gospel and taking care of animals. He strongly believes that agriculture is the way to experience the blessings of God. He makes his home in Ilorin, Nigeria with his wife Betty and children Temple and Timothy.

PANELISTS

Pernille Borgbo

Fatuma Namutosi

Founding Director, Byeffe Foods Company Limited (BFCL), Uganda

Fatuma Namutosi is a community worker and a founding director of Byeffe Foods Company Limited. Byeffe is a duly registered company adding value to traditional foods that improve nutrition, enhance food security and create sustainable incomes for youth through on and off farm activities for the past 3 years.

With over 5 value added products, Byeffe attained a market reach of 20 tons per quarter in Eastern Uganda, selling through a sales team and supply to supermarkets. The market in Eastern Uganda was difficult to sustain with inconsistent supply as a result of low production. In December 2016, Byeffe entered partnership with USAID Feed the Future Uganda Youth Leadership for Agriculture, the grant aided enrolling and training over 5000 youth farmers in pumpkin production and its value addition. The production has since then increased to 1,536 tons with capacity to dry 3000 kilograms per 2 days.

Fatuma's mother worked on other people's farms for money, supporting her education amidst family rejection of providing education for a girl child. That is where Fatuma derives her passion for agriculture.

Byeffe is currently expanding operations to benefit more young women, reduce cost of production, and access regional and international markets for increased profits.
